

PAINTINGS OF LOVE

A GENTLE WORKSHOP FOR EXPECTANT MOTHERS

This is a workshop for future (and current) moms. Every expectant mother talks to her baby every day. What she says only the baby hears. These soft words fill them both with radiance as they grow in sweetness and divine peace. When we translate them to colour and form, these words turn into paintings of love. This workshop is a place to paint these paintings. One day you will show them to your child and she will laugh sweetly, secretively, and you will know that she had known everything from the very beginning. Even before you started mixing the paints.

The workshop is designed as a monthly cycle comprising 4 sessions, and you are welcome to attend during all the nine months of the pregnancy. Individual sessions are also available upon appointment.

Together with paints and brushes we shall also use music, gentle exercise and sharing with other expectant mothers, there will be some dancing and some healthy snacks. Andrea is mother of three children, and looking forward to be a grandmother one day. Welcome!
